Do not forget that you must use sugar according to the acidity of the apples. Have sugar and butter on the top layer of apples, which cover with slices of light bread softened in water. Put a plate on this with a weight on top to press the bread close upon the apples. Bake it in a quick oven, and serve with a rich sauce.

Supplement to the Qu'Appelle Progress.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 16, 1894.

AN ASSAULT AND BATTERY CASE.

A case which excited a good deal of interest was heard before Messrs. J. H. Boyce, H. Osborne and J. P. Beauchamp, J.P.s, on Thursday evening last at Qu'Appelle. The information stated that on the 2nd of August John R. Good assaulted and beat James Thompson on the head and body with a club, doing him serious bodily harm. Mr. Wm. Smith represented Thompson and Mr. T. C. Johnston, Regina, defended Good. Thompson appeared with his head bandaged and his arm in a sling, and the Court was crowded soon after half past seven in the evening—the time set for the hearing—and the magistrates did not arrive at their decision till after half past one the following morning.

A slight alteration was made in the information on the suggestion of Mr. Smith, but the justices declined to accede to his request to order the witnesses out of Court.

James Thompson on being sworn said: On the morning of the 2nd of August I was mowing in a slough on section 20, township 16, range 13, when John R. Good came up to me and asked me what business I had there. I asked him what business he had there. He said, "I will give you two minutes to get to h— out of this or I'll murder you." I said, "Hold on a minute till we talk this thing over." He again told me "Get to h— out of this," and whilst I was asking him to talk the matter over he struck me with a club and hit me on the fingers as I tried to guard the blow. He struck again, hitting me on the head and knocking me down. I do not remember anything more till I came to. The first thing I remember was that David Good had my head in his hands. John Good came up, cursing and swearing and saying he could kick me in the ribs. By Mr. Smith: The assault occurred on section 20, township 16, range 13 between 8 and 9 o'clock in the morning. I have a permit to cut hay on this section. (Permit produced). The club was between three and four feet long and three inches through. Good used both hands in making the blow. I was attended by Dr. Henderson, and have been suffering both in my head and arm from the effects of the blows dealt by John Good. Cross-examined by Mr. Johnston: Good was altogether to blame. I did not give him any provocation whatever. He was wholly the aggressor. I had some trouble with Good previous to the 2nd of August; he was also wrong on that occasion and I was right. I know the slough on section 35, and met Good when he was cutting hay there. I was not concerned whether he got the hay or not, and I did not go with the intention of stopping him. I met Good one Sunday after at my place, when he drove up in a rig, and I remember asking him if he was as good a man as when he was in the slough. He replied that he was, and a little better. I told him to get out and shake himself. He did not answer me, but remained in the rig, and we had no row. I was willing to have a row, it was because he did not get out of the rig that we did not have a "scrap." The next time I met him was on the 2nd of August. I had heard prior to the 2nd of August that Good was going to cut hay in the same slough that I was working in on that day, but in that portion which is on section 21. There is no difficulty in discerning the dividing line between the two sections. Ford Beach and I were cutting hay in the slough on the 2nd of August, and William Cooper was in advance raking what had been mown the day before when Good came up to him, but I did not hear any conversation between Good and Cooper. I stopped the mower when Good was about thirty yards away, Beach also stopping his mower. I broke the grass finger off my mower, and told Beach to get something and defend himself. Griffiths was near to John Good, and David Good was some distance away. At the time of the row Beach had the grass finger of his mower in his hand. I was as anxious for a row as on the Sunday if Good had come empty handed. My stick was twenty inches long and one inch through, and Good's was three or four feet long and three inches through, which gave him the advantage over me. He struck me three times, but I swear I never struck him with the stick I had. I did not lose my temper, but was perfectly cool, and, except on the three occasions mentioned, I have never had any trouble with John Good. I did nothing on the 2nd of August to provoke John Good to a fight.

Dr. Henderson testified to being called professionally to attend James Thompson, and gave a detailed description of the injuries he had received both to his head and arm. He had received a wound above the right eye, and on examination of his left arm a fracture and two abrasions were discovered. He was shown the contents of a vessel which on examination proved to contain blood. Cross-examined: The external wound on the head was not serious, but there might have been internal injury. The present condition of Thompson was not serious.

F. Beach and W. Cooper corroborated the evidence of Thompson, Beach stating that he told Good twice to stop pounding Thompson and then hit him with the stick he had. Griffiths then came up, threw witness on the ground and tried to pound him, till Good told him to stop. Thompson tried two or three times to get up, and when he had succeeded Good told him he could kick him to pieces. There was nothing done by Thompson to provoke a fight.

This concluded the evidence for the prosecution.

John Griffiths said when Good and he went up to Thompson the latter told them to stand their distance. Thompson was the first to speak, when he said, "Stand your distance or else I'll brain you." Good asked Thompson what authority he had there, and he replied that he had as much right as he had. Good told Thompson he would give him two minutes to get out of the slough, but he said he would not. Thompson was the first to strike, hitting Good on the hand. Good's stick was about one and a half inches through and three feet long, and he had it over his shoulder when Thompson struck him. David Good put Thompson's hat on his head and told him he had better go home, but did not hold his head in his hands. Witness threw Ford Beach down after he had struck Good, and held him till Good told him to let him get up. Thompson's club was a peeled poplar stick. Cross-examined by Mr. Smith: Witness was there to see fair play as far as he could control it, and he thought it was fair play for Good to strike Thompson when he was down, because Thompson was kicking him.

David Good stated that he went with his brother and John Griffiths to the slough to cut hay on the day in question. John Good asked Cooper, who was raking, what he was doing there, when he replied that William Smith hired him and James Thompson brought him there to work. John Good then went to Thompson and asked him what authority he had for cutting hay there, and he answered that he had as much right as Good. Good then told Thompson to get out, and he replied if Good was man enough to put him out he would go. Good was going up to Thompson, when the latter struck him across the hand with his club. John Good hit Thompson and knocked him down. Thompson's horses commenced to run away, and witness went to catch them. When he got back they had quit fighting. He never had Thompson's head in his hands, but put his hat on his head and told him to go home.

John R. Good stated: On the 2nd of August I saw two teams going into the slough, and they commenced cutting. I said to my brother and Griffiths, "We will go down and see who it is, and what authority they have to cut the hay." We first met William Cooper, who was on the horse rake. I told him to stop, and he did. He said Smith had hired him and Thompson sent him there to work, so we went over to see what right Thompson had to be there. Before we got to where Thompson was he stopped his mower and got a club he had on the machine. Ford Beach, who was on a mower behind, stopped and broke the sick from his grass board. They came towards me and said, "Come on, we are ready for you." I went up to them, and Thompson said, "Stop and talk a little." I asked him what right he had there. He said he had as much business as I had. I told him he had not and could not show me any authority; he would have to get out of there as the hay was mine, for I had bought and paid for it. I would give him two minutes to get out. He replied that if I went a foot further he would knock my G— d— brains out. With that he struck at me and hit me on the hand. I struck him back. Ford Beach then struck me on the head, and Thompson hit me about the same time across the face. Thompson's stick was about two inches through and three feet long. Griffiths came up and got hold of Beach. When Thompson had stuck me I hit him back and knocked him down. When he was down he tried to hit me in the face, and struck two or three times. I did not strike Thompson as hard as I could when he was reclining on the ground. He walked home by himself. I got my right to cut the hay in the slough from Mr. Needham, and understand he got his right to it from Mr. Broley. I do not know where the boundary line runs between sections 20 and 21.

For their own information the magistrates had William Broley sworn. He stated that he sold Needham the buildings on the south-west quarter of section 21, township 16, range 13. He did not sell him the land or the hay.

Henry Wilson deposed that in July he heard Thompson say he would give John Good two days cutting with his mower and team if he would stand before him for five minutes. Witness did not hear any threats made.

Mr. Smith, in addressing the bench, pointed out that, although the evidence of the two parties was conflicting, James Thompson had sustained serious injury at the hands of John R. Good, and he contended that Good should be bound over to stand his trial.

Mr. Johnston quoted law bearing on the case, and said if the justices were convinced that Good was attacked by Thompson and Beach he was justified in using force, and was entitled to acquittal.

After a lengthy consultation, Mr. Osborne announced that he and his brother magistrates had carefully considered the evidence and had decided to dismiss the case.

Woodworth. Rev. F. R. Stacy will preside. There will also be singing by several friends, and all are invited to attend.

—The English Commissioners in January, who are practically inspectors of asylums, in their last report state that insanity is increasing at a faster rate than population. They affirm that the alarming increase of lunacy in the rural population arises from the excessive use of tea, which has displaced so largely the beverage used in earlier days, which they regard as having been healthier. There can be no doubt that the abolition of private brewing has deprived the people, especially farmers, of the most wholesome beverage ever made.

—During the storm on Thursday last, Mr. F. Cates and his daughter both received a slight electric shock. No serious consequences further than that both were unconscious for a short time.

INDIAN HEAD.

Public schools opened Monday. Lord Brassey sails for Canada on September 9th, and will visit Indian Head.

El. Sample is erecting a dwelling house on his acre lot in the north-east portion of the town.

George Allan left for Revelstoke and other points in British Columbia last week, intending to return before Xmas.

A. Mcintosh, landlord of the Assiniboine House, which was burned recently, has leased the Lake House in Mousam, and upon his return from Toronto will take possession.

Mr. Geo. W. Fisher arrived from England on Monday, having been sent out by Lord Brassey to take charge of the Alliance Farming Co.'s books.

At the recent examinations the following received promotion to the fourth standard:—John T. van, Leona Cameron, Maud McLane, Elwyn Brooks and Bessie Liggitt. The successful candidates for entrance were Helena McLane, Chas. R. Brooks and Allan Brooks. Three class teachers' certificates were obtained by Arthur Ratcliffe, Annie Liggitt and Jane McLane. The success of the candidates is more pronounced inasmuch as out of the large number who wrote on the examination all over the Territories but a small percentage succeeded in passing. For instance, only 22 third class teachers' certificates were issued. It speaks well for Mr. Grimmett that in this examination three out of the four candidates prepared by him secured certificates. The questions were hard, but as the examiners' report states, the candidates were not up to their work. Those who got through are to be congratulated.

At the time of writing a social is in progress in the Town Hall held by the members of the Methodist Church in honor of their pastor, Rev. Mr. McCullough, and his bride.

Two nigger minstrels and a banjo struck town Tuesday, but were ignominiously fired from the hotel for singing out of tune. Indian Head's cultured population has a vast ear for music as well as for scandal.

A meeting of the baseball club will be held on Saturday, Aug. 18th, to consider the practicability of holding a baseball tournament in Indian Head on a date to be arranged.

Hotel arrivals.—Commercial: W. W. McMillan, K. McKenzie, A. G. Lewis, H. L. Elze, J. D. Brooks, H. Snyder, Winnipeg; G. S. Grant, Indian Reserve; D. H. McCracken, Broadview; August Manday, S. Louis, Montmartre; W. D. Cowan, W. Rathwell, Regina; C. W. Carter, E. J. Phillips, Toronto; Percy Bell, Portage la Prairie; Geo. H. Fisher, London, Eng.

Do you intend to build this fall? An inspection of the various classes of British Columbia fir, spruce and cedar lumber, lath, shingles, etc., received at my yard, and enquiry as to prices will pay you.

A. W. SHERWOOD, Lumber Dealer, Indian Head.

A VERY CHEAP FARM.

The undersigned offers for sale the N.E. 1/4 Sec. 26, Township 18, Range 15. This farm is three miles from Qu'Appelle Station. There is on it a splendid residence, erected at a large cost; also two wells of good water, one in kitchen and the other at the stable. $1,000 will buy the whole property, and the balance by instalments at 7 per cent. interest. Apply to WM. HENDERSON, Regina, or to ALEX. MCKENZIE, Qu'Appelle Station.
